Evelyn Waller celebrates 90th birthday

by Diana Farquhar
Rockburn Correspondent

A special celebration was held at the home of Glen & Grace Waller on Rt. 202 on Thanksgiving weekend.

The Waller family was delighted to honour Mrs. Evelyn Waller on her 90th birthday, which was October 8.

The first day of celebration was a family dinner. About 45 family members enjoyed a delicious buffet at 2 p.m. on Sunday. The day was filled with visiting and happy family togetherness.

On Monday afternoon, friends and neighbours were invited to celebrate with Mrs. Waller and enjoy a dainty lunch and birthday cake.

This gentle, kind, gracious lady welcomed her guests into her home and had a marvellous time chatting with everyone.

her family presented her with a cosy duvet and an album of poems, pictures, hand prints of her youngest great-grandchildren. One might say this was a tribute to the devotion she has shown to her family throughout the years.

The album was made up by Iris and Betty Waller.

Evelyn was born in Arizona and came to Rockburn in the early 1920's.

She spent part of a summer visiting her uncle and aunt, Fred and Ella Stevenson. While she was visiting she met Charlie Waller. Later on Charlie went to Arizona where he and Evelyn were married.

Mrs. Waller has been a Rockburn resident for nearly 70 years. She has always been known to for her thoughtfulness and generosity, it was her practice to send a home-made pie to a new neighbour and lend a hand in the community.

Her work in the Rockburn Presbyterian Church and Ladies Aid has been a big part of her life.

Even in recent years it wasn't unusual to find Mrs. Waller drying dishes at the annual turkey supper.

The beautiful delicate crochet work and handicrafts she has enjoyed are still of great interest to her.

Guests visiting at the Waller home to be part of this birthday celebration included Evelyn's sister, Florence Snure, and her husband Ben of Rodeo, New Mexico.

Congratulations Evelyn on your very special birthday!
