

The late Lionel J. Robb will be greatly missed

by J.C. Lefebvre

Lionel J. Robb was a community-minded citizen who took part in many local and regional organizations. As a regular church-goer, he would hesitate at times between attending services in Valleyfield and Huntingdon but he was always present at one.

As an after-dinner speaker, he was recognized far and wide, loaded with humor with a choice of words which would have been the envy of Churchill.

As a former partner in the firm McDonald & Robb with the late Emmons McDonald his knowledge of the flour industry was known and recognized throughout Canada.

A resident of Valleyfield for the past fifty odd years he was born in Huntingdon as was his wife, née Margaret Oliver. The couple was married in St. Andrew's Church in June 1939. Lionel was repeatedly invited to preach in different churches where the congregation appreciated his masterful delivery.

A devoted husband, he thoroughly enjoyed his retirement years with his wife and son Malcolm who now resides in Brantford, Ontario with a wife and two children. Lionel made it a point to say "hello" to people on the street. He knew them all and they all knew him. He appreciated these contacts as much as the many friends who, at times, went out of their way to see him.

One important facet of the life of Lionel and Margaret Robb: They were always present when relatives and friends needed help or moral support with the greatest discretion. Seventy-nine

(79) years young Lionel J. Robb will be sorely missed in Valleyfield, Huntingdon and elsewhere not only by his immediate family but as much by those who knew and will miss such a prominent citizen.

I'm proud to say we were good friends because of the many facets linking us to Huntingdon and Valleyfield. He was a true Canadian, a good citizen and Christian. I will also miss him and his phone calls!
